

Guide to Planning a New Website

Use this guide to start planning a new website for your business. Use it as a guide when building or own site or give it to your website designer.

Your answers don't need to be long or complicated, but the more information you have up-front, the less time it will take to build and launch.

As website designers, we'd give you a discount if you came prepared with information! If you need a designer, contact Purple Gen.
